RESPONSE TO RESTRICTION REQUIREMENT

Responsive to the action mailed March 13, 2006, applicants elect (i) the invention of Group I, i.e., claims 1-15 and 29-41, drawn to a method for preparing an array and method of using the array, and (ii) the combination of SEQ ID NOs: 9 and 13, which, as specific primers, amplify a variable region. These two primers are listed in the specification, page 17, Table 1. The election is made with traverse.

More specifically, Applicants request that a combination of SEQ ID NO: 9 with one of SEQ ID NOs: 14-16 (all listed in the specification, page 17, Table 1) be examined concurrently for the following reasons.

First, SEQ ID NO: 9 and 13-16 are not “unrelated to one another.” All of them are fragments of the rRNA Gene ITS1 regions. See, e.g., the specification, page 25, paragraph [0066].

Second, according to MPEP 803.04,

It has been determined that normally ten sequences constitute a reasonable number for examination purposes. Accordingly, in most cases, up to ten independent and distinct nucleotide sequences will be examined in a single application without restriction. In addition to the specifically selected sequences, those sequences which are patentably indistinct from the selected sequences will also be examined.

As SEQ ID NOs: 9 and 13-16 are only 5 nucleotide sequences, Applicants request that all of them be examined concurrently.
